

Call for Expression of Interest for Public Representatives to Serve on the Nova Scotia Regulator of Dental Hygiene, Dental Technology, and Denturism's Reinstatement Committee

The Nova Scotia Regulator of Dental Hygiene, Dental Technology, and Denturism (NSRDHDTD) is inviting interested members of the public to apply to serve on its Reinstatement Committee. This committee plays an essential role in upholding the regulatory body's public protection mandate under the Regulated Health Professions Act (RHPA).

The Reinstatement Committee is a statutory committee that reviews applications for reinstatement of registration or licence following a revocation or resignation. May also decide whether publication of the reinstatement is in the interest of the public.

Application Criteria:

No experience is required, and training will be provided.

It is important that committee members represent the public interest in their role on statutory committees. For this reason, individuals applying to serve on this committee should be willing to make themselves familiar with relevant legislation including:

- The Regulated Health Professions Act
- The General Regulations of the RHPA
- The Dental Hygiene, Dental Technology, and Denturism Regulations
- The By-Laws of the NSRDHDTD

Pursuant to the RHPA, applicants for public representative positions on the Reinstatement Committee cannot:

- Be current NSRDHDTD Board members.
- Be current registrants of any regulated health profession.
- Be former registrants of dental hygiene, dental technology, or denturism.

Individuals applying to serve on a statutory committee will be required to:

- Complete an application. They are encouraged to self-identify as a member of any equity-deserving groups to which they belong. This information will be carefully compared to an established competency matrix and used to fill in any gaps in equity, diversity, inclusion, or skills areas of the committee that were previously identified as needing representation to most effectively operate in the public interest.
- Provide a brief cover letter outlining the reasons they are looking to serve on the committee they have applied for.
- Disclose any perceived or potential conflicts of interest that exist or may arise as a result of participating in their committee work.

- Attend an interview (virtual, telephone, or in-person) with the Registrar, Chair of the applicable committee, Board Executive member, or any combination of these.

Terms of Appointment:

Reinstatement Committee members hold office for three to five-years as directed by the Board, and are eligible for reappointment for a second consecutive term.

Public representatives applying to serve on a statutory committee are expected to complete an orientation process, and to attend all committee meetings.

Meeting frequency will vary depending on how many matters may be referred to it, but will meet at least once annually.

All positions on statutory committees are volunteer positions, however, expenses related to participation and attendance in committee work is reimbursed in accordance with an established expense policy.

To Apply:

Please complete the application, including conflict of interest attestation, and return it to:
