The Berkeley

What a treat it is to spend these few months directing two shows back to back that are set in my birth country, Calendar Girls and then Billy Elliot. What a joyful local cast we have gathered together. It's rare to have a play with so many great roles for women and I am lucky to have such a strong local pool to draw from. This play features a veritable who's who of local talent.

The play is really about the strong bond between these women and the way they protect and help their own in times of trouble. Nothing could have prepared these women for the way their original calendar took off. To date, they have raised over £5 million for Leukaemia &

Lymphoma Research, the UK's leading blood cancer charity.

As you're reading this, I am getting prepared for Billy Elliot, our season-ending musical production. It's a giant show with a gigantic heart. We have recently announced our 2020-21 season with some amazing productions for you. The Rocky Horror Show fills our summer and Dreamgirls closes us out. Once again we bring you a new family musical comedy at Christmas, with Alice In Pantoland. The season has two premieres by Atlantic Canadian playwrights, two incredible pieces of Indigenous theatre, thrills, chills and laughs galore.

Enjoy your time in the hills with the Calendar Girls. Thank you for being here.

Jeremy Webb
Artistic Director

#TAKETHELEAP

Hello and welcome to Neptune for our presentation of Calendar Girls.

We are happy to have this talented cast of artists with strong ties to Nova Scotia and Atlantic Canada perform on our stage. This show is a delight and we can't wait for you to share a few laughs with us.

I would like to take the opportunity to tell you about an upcoming fundraiser. On April 17, we're hosting a special red carpet gala on the opening night performance of our season-closing musical, Billy Elliot. The evening will include a pre-show reception and an exciting post-show soirée. The funds raised at this black-tie affair will support our education and community programming.

Box office revenues cover just over 50 per cent of Neptune's annual operating expenses. It's through generous donations that the theatre is able to deliver high-quality productions and exceptional community and education programs. Your support helps Neptune open more doors to make live theatre more accessible.

For more information about the gala, please visit neptunetheatre.com/billygala. Tickets can be purchased online or at the box office.

Thanks for your continued support.

Last month, Neptune announced its 2020-2021 season and we're thrilled about what's coming up. Next year, our stages will feature plays written by Atlantic Canadian women; works created by Indigenous playwrights; another holiday musical for the whole family, plus an exciting summer lineup of shows.

We have made a couple of changes to our subscription packages, including the introduction of the Big 3 Package. This option provides the convenience of purchasing tickets to our three biggest shows of the season (The Rocky Horror Show, Alice in Pantoland and Dreamgirls) at the best price.

The Modern Voices on the Scotiabank

Stage Subscription will take you on an emotional journey through modern and compelling topics. One Step At A Time, Finding Wolastoq Voice, Scorch and Huff have been programmed to push boundaries and initiate thought-provoking discussions.

There are a number of benefits to becoming a subscriber such as: having the first choice of seats and dates, discounts on additional tickets including bonus features, discounts on dining and services from local business partners and more.

We encourage you to explore our subscription options online or at the box office.

Thank you for supporting Neptune.

John grew sunflowers from the onset of his illness and gave them to friends and family in the hope he would have recovered by the time they flowered. Unfortunately, this was not the case but the sunflower lives on as a reminder of John's life and has now become an unofficial symbol for all fundraising for leukemia and lymphoma research by John's family and friends.

Calendar Girls is based on the real life story of Angela Baker, a woman from Yorkshire, UK whose husband John passed away from non-Hodgkin's lymphoma in the late 1990s. To raise funds for a visitor's sofa at the local hospital, she and a group of friends posed for an "alternative" calendar. Their efforts took off and to date they have raised over £5 million for Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research in the UK.

In 2003, the story was made into a comedy starring Dame Helen Mirren and Dame Julie Walters and received critical acclaim. The film was nominated for many awards and won Best Comedy Film at the British Comedy Awards. Five years later, the movie was adapted into a stage play and we are thrilled to present it here at Neptune Theatre.

Role: Stage Manager Neptune: (as SM) The Boat, Great Expectations, Miss Caledonia; (as ASM) Peter Pan, Beauty and the Beast, Oliver. Other Theatre: Many credits throughout the Maritimes including 2b Theatre, Eastern Front Theatre, Two Planks and a Passion, Theatre New Brunswick, Charlottetown Festival, Keep Good Theatre, and Mermaid Theatre of NS. Awards: Merritt award for Best Stage Manager (2003, 2014). Training: University of King's College; National Theatre School of Canada.

ALISON CROSBY

Role: Assistant Stage Manager Neptune: Peter Pan, Cinderella (ASM), Lo (or Dear Mr. Wells), The Color Purple (Assist. Lighting Designer, Chrysalis Project). Other Theatre: Hook Line & Sinner, Chasing Champions, The Romeo Initiative (Ship's Company Theatre); Silence, The (curious case of the) Watson Intelligence, Sucker (Highland Arts Theatre); Kingfisher Days, The Hound of the Baskervilles, Stage Kiss (Festival Antigonish). Training: Mount Allison University. Other: Neptune Theatre's INKubator Project.

The RBC Chrysalis Project, supported by Arts Nova Scotia, is an incredible opportunity to be mentored by an industry professional on a large scale production.

When I decided that I wanted to turn my eye to directing, I knew Neptune Theatre and the Chrysalis Project would be a safe place to learn and grow. I was working as an actor on Mamma Mia! at Neptune when the Chrysalis Project was first created, and I could already tell that I wanted to be a part of it. You get to have an active role through the rehearsal process which paves the way for emerging artists.

Working on Calendar Girls with Jeremy Webb has made the learning experience fun, informative and has created building blocks for me to expand my knowledge in directing after I leave this show. Jeremy made sure to ask what I wanted to get out of my experience here and made sure I achieved my goals, as well as sharing information I may need about his process from pre-production to opening night. I always felt that I had a voice in the room, which is extremely important in developing skills and confidence. I also appreciate Neptune giving opportunities to local and non-local artists, creating a diverse group of participants.

For anyone interested in growing in their respective field, I wholeheartedly recommend the RBC Chrysalis Project.

Natasha Strilchuk
Assistant Director, Calendar Girls
