CRAFT TIME

Bookworm Paper Roll Pencil Holder

Materials:

- paper rolls (toilet paper rolls, kitchen towel rolls)
- green paper or paint
- red paper
- white paper
- grey construction paper
- scissors
- glue
- black marker
- stapler (younger kids can use glue instead of stapler)
- any other decorations you see fit

www.easypeasyandfun.com

Instructions:

1. Paint the paper rolls green or wrap them in green paper (regular print paper works best). Glue the paper to the roll.
2. Make glasses. Using the grey construction paper draw a glasses outline – we used a lid of a small cream to trace two circles overlapping one another. Cut two smaller white circles. Glue them inside the gray glasses and draw black dots for eyes. Glue the glasses on one of the green paper rolls.
3. Draw the mouth on the paper roll.
4. Staple all the green paper rolls together. You can staple the one with the glasses a bit higher than the others.
5. Now to make the book for the bookworm. Cut a red rectangle and fold it in half. This makes the book cover. Also cut white rectangles (make them smaller than the red one), fold them in half and scribble on the pages to get the book look. Glue or staple the pages and the book cover together.
6. Cut two hands out of green paper. Glue them on the bookworm. Apply glue at the end of the hands (you can fold them a bit). Glue the book to the bookworm's hands.

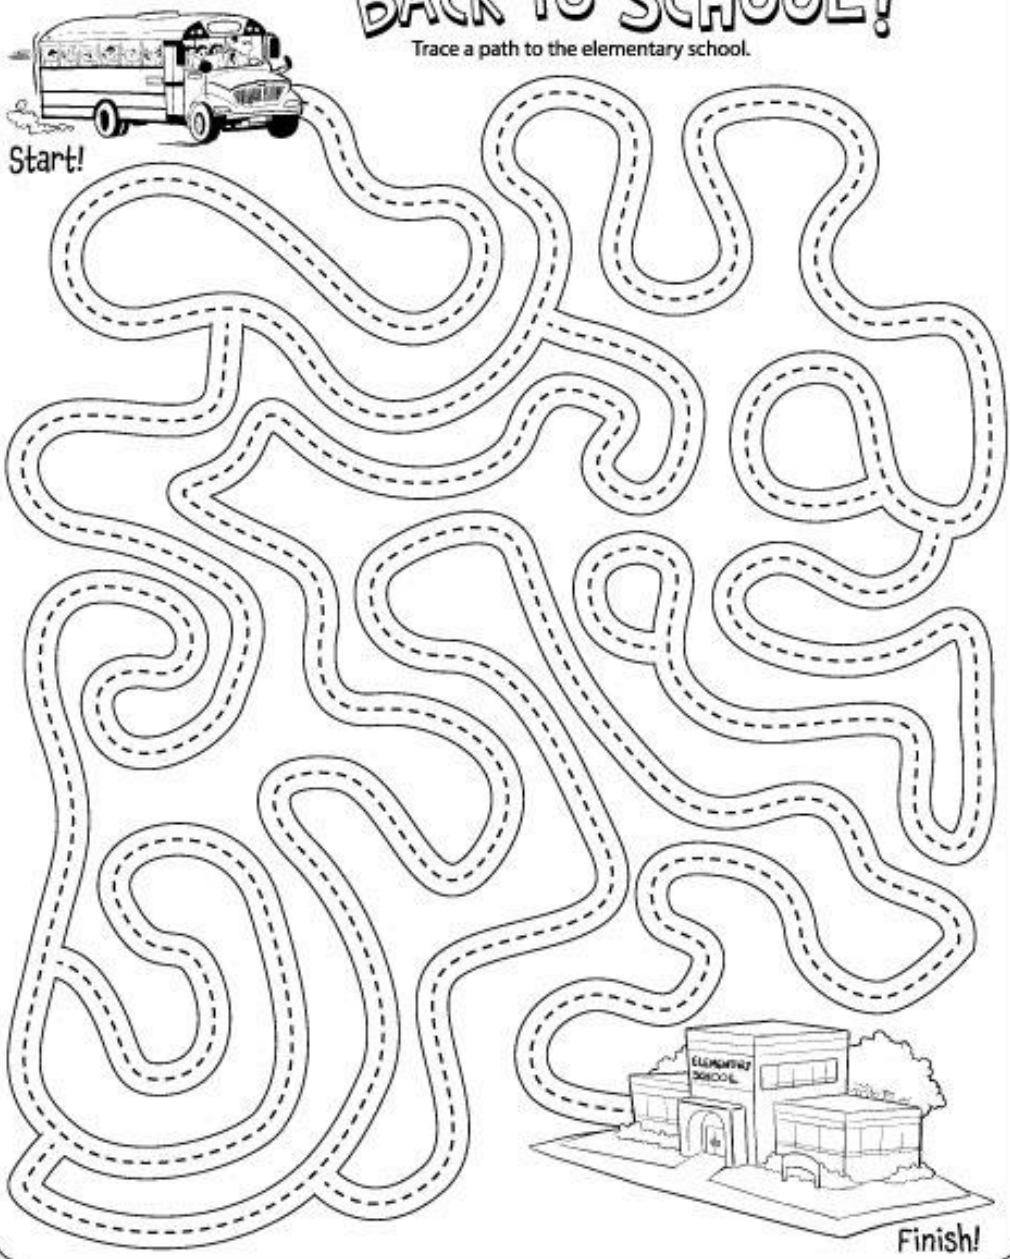

All done, your Bookworm Paper Roll Pencil Holder is all done and ready to hold some pencils!
